

Information Guide

Scholarship Programmes

Various other organisations and associations give away scholarships. All of them require excellent academic performance and/or outstanding voluntary activities.

In the following you will find a list of the organisations, which give away scholarships to graduate and postgraduate students:

- World Bank Graduate Scholarship Programme
<http://web.worldbank.org/scholarships>

- Scholarships for Latin-American Students
<http://www.programalban.org/>

- KAAD (Katholischer Akademischer Austauschdienst)
The KAAD funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from abroad.
www.kaad.de

- Alfred-Toepfer-Stiftung
The Alfred Toepfer Foundation invites candidates from eastern European countries to apply for an Alfred-Toepfer-scholarship.
<http://www.toepfer-fvs.de/toepfer-stipendium.html>

- Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung
The FES funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from home and abroad.
<http://www.fes.de/>

- Friedrich-Naumann-Stiftung
The FNST funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from home and abroad.
www.fnst.de

- Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung
The Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from home and abroad
www.boell.de

- Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung
The KAS funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from home and abroad.
www.kas.de
- Rosa-Luxemburg-Stiftung
The Rosa Luxemburg-Stiftung funds undergraduate and postgraduate students from home and abroad
<http://www.rosalux.de/>

Links to further Scholarship Databases:

<http://www.e-fellows.net/de/public/shows/detail.php/5789>

<http://www.funding-guide.de>

Only for german applicants:

- Hans Böckler Stiftung
The Hans-Böckler-Stiftung particularly funds students with a low financial background. Second-chance education is funded.
<http://www.boeckler.de/>